My Heart is Filled with Gratitude

Dear Friends, The time has come to say goodbye since on July 23rd, the Carmelite feast of Our Lady Mother of Divine Grace, I will enter the Carmel of Jesus, Mary and Joseph in Kensington, California, to be a cloistered Carmelite nun. My heart is filled with gratitude for the many graces received at our beloved parish over these past couple of years—the hours spent in prayer and adoration of Our Lord (my greatest consolation), my spiritual director Father Jeff Drossler, your loving support and prayers, and the opportunity to serve God in His poor at Outreach.

Dear friends, I assure you of my prayers and count on yours! All praise, glory and thanksgiving to God for all His blessings.

Dina Fathi

The vocation of Carmel: A Carmelite nun withdraws from the world to “the desert” of Carmel to dedicate herself wholly to God in a life of solitude, intense prayer and penance. Carmelites are essentially hermits living in community, and they have the special vocation to pray for priests, accompanying them in their apostolic mission by a life of prayer and sacrifice. It is a life, which if well lived, is a tremendous source of grace for the Church—for souls—as was for example the life of St. Therese of Lisieux.

Moments of Mercy

Sixteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Last Sunday's "Good Samaritan" parable concluded with Jesus' command: Go provide hands-on mercy to the next person you meet, no conditions, no limits, no exceptions. But today, Jesus seems to criticize Martha's hands-on mercy of hospitality, while praising Mary's "hands-off" as "choosing the better part" (Luke 10:42). Mary sat listening (10:39), leaving Martha "burdened with much serving by herself" (10:40). So, is the contemplative life of prayerful silence "superior," but the active life of earning a living, raising a family, running parishes, schools, hospitals, and social service ministries "second-class" discipleship? No; Jesus' example is not either/or but both/and: silent communion with God, boundless compassion for people. If we do not seek Jesus in silent prayer, how will we find Jesus in all others? If we do not serve Jesus in others, will our worship, despite its beauty, be anything but empty ritual? This Jubilee Year of Mercy offers us Jesus' two-fold challenge: both "go and do" and "sit and listen."
