

Christmas 2020

Dear Parishioners,

This Christmas is a test of faith. It is “where the rubber meets the road, the moment of truth” for believers like us. COVID serves as a measure of our faith in God. Because it is natural to be fearful and anxious when we face danger. But, yet, it is supernatural to be joyful and peaceful when we are in peril. While it is no surprise that people living without faith in God are scared and depressed under the threat of COVID; it is, however, a scandal that people who claim to believe in God are terrorized just the same.

Fear cannot consume our lives if we truly believe in the power of God to save. As we celebrate the Birth of Our Savior, I pray that we may pass the test of faith this Christmas and emerge like fire tried gold.

May the Baby Jesus give you courage, peace and joy!

Father Sy Nguyen
Pastor