Dear Parishioners,

It is truly an unprecedented time when the governor issued the statewide “stay at home” order which is in effect now until further notice. Our spiritual home, the church, will keep its doors open 24/7 so that you can come and pray while keeping proper “social distancing”.

The Lord remains ever present to us in the tabernacle. However, the Blessed Sacrament is no longer exposed as we cannot lawfully expect adorers to keep their hours. Also, Father Hoa and I will continue to pray the Holy Masses for you but no longer in view. These changes make me very sad and I know you too, but only for a moment, because sadness always gives way to joy when we trust in the Lord.

Remember the hallmarks of Christians in time of crisis: faith, joy, love and courage.
