AUCTION DRESS UP DAY: Mark your calendars and get your Hawaiian shirts ready. Students will have the opportunity to dress down in tropical themed clothing with a monetary donation to the Auction class projects on Friday, March 26. Donations will help fund projects done by grade levels and some homeroom classes that will become popular Auction items at the upcoming Auction Luau, Saturday, April 24.

AUCTION CLASS PROJECT VOLUNTEERS NEEDED: The auction committee is looking for volunteers to complete the class projects. These are always auction favorites. Not creative but still want to help? That's ok, creative help is available! Best part is, the auction will cover the expense of the project. Simply turn in the receipts for reimbursement. See the flyer for the classrooms/grades that still need a volunteer. If you have any questions or would like to volunteer, please contact Shelby Burton at theshelbyd@hotmail.com.

AUCTION ITEMS NEEDED: The success of the auction is driven by the families who put in the effort to help procure auction items. Not only is it a fun filled evening, but it is our biggest fundraiser, helps keep our tuition affordable, and it supports the major needs of our school. Items may be collected from businesses by signing up here: <https://www.signupgenius.com/tabs/1357fda03a6cae9c60-2021>. Signing up ensures multiple people are not asking the same businesses and approaching businesses that have already pledged their support. If you want to purchase an item to donate, please consider purchasing an item from the Auction Amazon wish list: https://www.amazon.com/hz/wishlist/ls/3U566VU74PEQ?ref=wl_share. Thank you for supporting this year's Auction.
