

Miss Anne's News from Room 5

Week of April 26-30, 2021

Well, it sounds like we should have a warmer, dryer week to enjoy more outdoor time! Please remember that we will need jackets for our morning recess time!

We have enjoyed watching our 7 caterpillars eat and grow quickly, and now they have all become chrysalids. We are anticipating the emergence of some Painted Lady butterflies later this week, maybe Thursday and Friday! Our brown chrysalids will turn black just before the butterflies emerge, so we will check them every day!

This week we will do two projects that will help us remember the life cycle of butterflies, so we will be doing some cutting and gluing this week. We will also make the always-popular clothespin butterfly magnets!

Please remember to check your child's pocket folder, located behind the classroom door, and your child's cubby every night! Your child is always proud to show you what they have accomplished!

Next week: May! And, time for some secret surprises happening in our room!
