

Miss Anne's News from Room 5

Week of May 17-21, 2021

We are down to our last 2 weeks of school! We will be doing lots of reviews, such as shapes, letters, numerals and colors.

We will learn about a new shape this week, the octagon. It isn't one of the shapes that I assess, but it is a shape that kids see everyday, when riding in the car—it's the shape of a STOP sign!

We will talk about the color YELLOW this week! We will use yellow paint to spatter with a fly swatter!

We will be doing our final Journaling session this week. We will be bringing home our Journals on Friday. Throughout the year, I have dated each child's journal pages. I hope that, as you peruse your child's journal, you will see the progression of their writing and drawing skills as they have grown this year!

While the weather has a pretty good chance of being rainy for part of the week, we hope to have time to go out to the Garden area behind the school to have a bug scavenger hunt! We will take our lists and magnifying glasses to see what we can find! We also are hoping for a lot of outdoor time!

Have a great weekend! — Miss Anne
