Dear Kindergarten families,

Your children did remarkably well with their first full day week! They are all such little troopers! You would be SO proud!

We have had such a busy week! Thank you so much to all of you for helping them do their homework each night! It is very much appreciated! They were excited to get their prize bucket tickets each morning. They were even more excited to pick out their prizes today! 😊

Today we had a VERY special visitor! Father Mike came to visit our class! He talked with the children about going to Mass and then we walked over to the church! Father Mike showed them how to genuflect as we went in and then we sat in the pews we will be sitting in soon! He explained what the stained glass windows and many other items in the church meant. It was so much fun for them!

Your children absolutely loved pizza day today at lunch! Some of them were a little disappointed to only get one piece. If you would like your child to have 2 pieces, please send in the additional amount needed. The cost is $1 per slice.

I hope you all have a very nice and peaceful weekend!

Abundant blessings to you and yours,

Ms. Jones

“Fun Work”!

Our fun work assignment this weekend is to have your child bring in some environmental print! It could be restaurant containers or bags such as McDonald's or cereal and other food boxes/containers you may have at home. Anything that has bold familiar words/names that we can make a display of to read and learn from!

Thank you!
