MOMENT “Follow me and I will make you fishers of men.” – Mark 1:17
Jesus’ call to “Follow me” is a call to all Christians! The call is in the Here and now, in our present circumstances, not when we think we are “ready” or have everything in order. Good stewardship of our God-given gifts means that things aren’t always going to go according to our schedule and that God has a much better plan in store for each of us.

CONFIRMATION/FIRST COMMUNION

Our fourth grade class who should have been confirmed and made their First Communion last year will be receiving their sacraments on Sunday, January 31 at 1:00 pm Mass. Due to the Covid-19 restrictions, this Mass will be limited to the student's parents and family. St. Rose will still have their regularly scheduled Masses on Saturday at 5:00 pm and on Sunday at 8:30 am.

Our students receiving their sacrament at this time are: Willow Abentroth, Kloe Ackerman, Wyatt Haman, Jacob Miller, Kara Mueller and Piper Ptacek.

We will have tables set up in the back of the church for anyone who would like to leave a card or gift for our Confirmation/First Communion students. We will be wearing masks and practicing social distancing.

St. Rose would like to welcome any new parishioners to our parish. If you are new, or if you have been here awhile, and would like to register, please contact Liz Kritzberger, parish secretary or Carmen Henn, DRE.

POPE AT ANGELUS: FINDING GOD MEANS FINDING LOVE

Pope Francis reflects on the day's Gospel during his Sunday Angelus, inviting the faithful to accept God's call, responding to it with only love.

Marking the Second Sunday in Ordinary Time, Pope Francis reflected on the Gospel of the day, which presents the meeting between Jesus and His first disciples.

Speaking from the Vatican's Apostolic library during the Sunday Angelus, Pope Francis recounted the scene, which unfolds along the Jordan River the day after Jesus's baptism. It is John the Baptist himself, he explains, "who points out the Messiah to the two, with these words: 'Behold, the Lamb of God!'" The two, trusting the Baptist's testimony, follow Jesus. He realizes this and asks the disciples what it is they are looking for. When asked where Jesus was staying, He responds by telling them, "Come and you will see."

Pope Francis went on to describe this response not as a calling card, "but an invitation for an encounter." The two follow Him and remained that afternoon with Him. "It is not difficult to imagine them seated asking Him questions and above all listening to Him, feeling their hearts enflamed ever more while the Master spoke", said the Pope. He explained that although it is evening, "all of a sudden they discover that that light that only God can give was exploding within them". When they leave and return to their brothers, that joy, that light overflows from their hearts like a raging river. One of the two, Andrew, says to his brother, Simon – whom Jesus will call Peter – "We have found the Messiah".

"Let us pause a moment on this experience of meeting Christ, who calls us to remain with Him", said the pope. He explained that "each one of God's calls is an initiative of His love".

"God calls to life, He calls to faith, and He calls to a particular state in life. God's first call is to life, through which He makes us persons; it is an individual call because God does not make things in series. Then God call us to faith and to become part of His family as children of God. Lastly, God calls us to a particular state in life to give of ourselves on the path of matrimony, or that of the priesthood or the consecrated life."

These, continued, the Pope, are "different ways of realizing the design that God has for each one of us, which is always a design of love". The "greatest joy for every believer", he stressed, is to respond to that call "offering one's entire being to the service of God and the brothers and sisters".

Concluding his reflection, Pope Francis noted that before the Lord's call, "which reaches us in a thousand ways", our attitude at times might be "rejection", and at others, "fear". "But God's call is love and it should be responded to only with love", said the Pope. "At the beginning there is an encounter, or rather, there is the encounter with Jesus who speaks to us of His Father. He makes His love known to us. And then the spontaneous desire will arise even in us to communicate it to the people that we love: 'I met Love'. 'I found the meaning of my life'. In a word: 'I found God'".

Finally, before reciting the Angelus prayer, Pope Francis prayed that the Virgin Mary might "help us make of our lives a hymn of praise of God in response to His call and in the humble and joyful fulfillment of His will.
