

Thanks to a grant received from the Coronavirus Response Fund, in partnership with United Way of the Bluegrass and Blue Grass Community Foundation, as well as donations received from multiple BFF supporters around our community, the Giving Tree is more fully prepared to support the needs of families in Lexington.

If you know someone who needs access to formula, diapers or other basic needs for their family, here are the steps you can share with them:

1. Call the Family Care Center (288-4040) and leave a message detailing your name and phone number. Someone will return your call within 24 hours and schedule a curbside pickup time at our distribution location (Family Care Center, 1135 Harry Sykes Way). Please note: You must first call and receive a confirmation from our team prior to visiting the distribution location. We are unable to provide items to those dropping by the distribution location.
2. Arrive at your scheduled time for pickup. Remain in your car, and our team will bring the items to you.

We are proud to have provided uninterrupted service to families during this unique time, and appreciate the support of community partners and individuals that allow us to make it happen. Many thanks to the staff of Family Care Center who are supporting the distributions from the Giving Tree at this time.

For support outside of Lexington or for other needs such as food and healthcare, individuals may call 2-1-1.
