

Good afternoon parents, please respond to this e-mail so that I know you received it.

I hope you are all well and coping with this difficult situation in which we find ourselves. Be assured of my prayerful thoughts for all of you. I will miss meeting with your children on Wednesday evenings. In view of these challenging circumstances CCD lessons will now be sent home via e-mail. Please note the attachments below which are easily opened with Adobe as a pdf file. Let me know if you have any difficulty opening the attachments. Parents, please assist your child with this lesson. The focus is on God's mercy as illustrated in the Book of Jonah and Luke's account of Jesus' parable of the Lost Son. The first page walks you through the structure of the lesson I would have conducted in class. The second page, the colorful sheet, is for discussion and consideration of questions based on the readings. If your child wishes to write down responses and you are able to scan and send them to me I will be sure to respond. Considering how much time the children will have not going to school I am confident that the amount of work I send will not be too burdensome.

Last week for homework I asked the students to write a brief summary based on chapter 4 of the Book of Tobit. Again, if you are able to scan and e-mail your child's work to me I will gladly read it and respond to it.

I invite you to e-mail or call me with any questions or concerns. My office number is below. There is an answering machine for you to leave a message if I do not pick up. If you would like me to call you please feel free to let me know via e-mail.

With the help of our heavenly Father we will get through this together.
May God bless us all.
