On behalf of the Gottstine Family, I would like to take a moment to thank everyone for their prayers and support during Ken's illness; the boys and I were and continue to be surrounded by a tremendous amount of love. We are taking each day one at a time and helping each other get through the difficult days ahead. We thank everyone that sent a Mass card in Ken's memory, the many cards of encouragement he received during his illness, and our guardian angels who showed up on our doorstep throughout this journey to help in any way they could. I don't want to thank anyone individually because I know I would forget someone, there were so many of you. We have a tremendous support system at our parish and the love could be felt throughout this sad time for us.

Much Love,
Debbie, Matthew & Michael
Gottstine

Thank you for your generosity with our annual Fuel Collection. To date, we have collected $8,516.00. Thank you again for your continued support.

What has become of CCD?
Has it disappeared?

"Religious Education": what is that supposed to mean? Why doesn't our Holy Father and the Church talk about CCD anymore? Here is the answer.

How CCD became your Parish Religious Education Program

For many years, CCD (the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine) provided Catechism lessons to children and youth not attending Catholic School. It was a wonderful program for its time. However, the Second Vatican Council called for some new thinking about the way Catholics are to be formed in their faith.

The Church developed a new approach to teaching the Faith In Vatican II, the Church reaffirmed that Catholics of all ages are entitled to an ongoing and deeper understanding of their faith. As a result, it is the commitment of every diocese in the country to offer religious education of the highest quality to all Catholics. Every parish, therefore, gives a high priority to formation in the faith for every parishioner - child, youth or adult. Every Catholic family is called to seek out religious education for each of its members.
