OUR LADY OF MOUNT CARMEL

This memorial is the principal feast day of the Carmelite Order; also known as the Feast of the Scapular. In the thirteenth century, during the time of the Crusades, Simon Stock went on a pilgrimage to the Holy Land, where he met a group of hermits on Mount Carmel in Galilee. They claimed to be successors of Elijah and his followers. Simon brought them to England with him. Because the Carmelites were newcomers to England and had a great devotion to the Blessed Virgin, the older religious communities harassed them. Simon Stock, asked the Blessed Virgin for some special sign of her protection. It was then that he had a vision of the Blessed Mother bringing him the brown scapular with the promise "This will be for you and for all Carmelites, the privilege, that he who dies in this will not suffer eternal fire." The scapular is part of the Carmelite habit. Lay persons may also wear the scapular and can share in the graces associated with it.

ST. KATERI TEKAKWITHA

Born in 1656 near Auriesville, New York; her mother was Algonquin and her father was a Mohawk chief. She is called "Lily of the Mohawks" because of her great devotion to the Holy Eucharist and Jesus crucified. At nineteen, she was baptized a Christian and her conversion put her in constant danger. She secretly left her village and journeyed to a Christian Native American village at Sault, St. Louis. She spent long hours in prayer, charity and penance. Kateri took a vow of virginity and led an ordinary life. Towards the end of her life, she fasted for the conversion of her nation. Kateri died in 1680; canonized in 2012.

ST. BONAVENTURE

Born in 1221, Bagnoregio, Italy. He joined the Franciscan Order, which honors him as its second founder. A gifted teacher, preacher, scholastic and mystic, Bonaventure is known as the "Seraphic Teacher." He died at Lyons in 1274. The historian of the Council of Lyons wrote that Bonaventure was a unique person. He was unsurpassed in sanctity, wisdom, and eloquence; had a skill for accomplishing things, a heart full of love and a charming disposition. It was said that no one was "more handsome, more holy, or more learned" than Bonaventure.

Pope's Prayer Intention for July

That in social, economic and political situations of conflict, we may be courageous and passionate architects of dialogue and friendship.

THE FIFTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME - Assignments and directives are the course of action for today's liturgy. In today's first reading (Am 7:12-15) the Old Testament prophet Amos protests that he is not a prophet, but he is given a prophet's assignment. He gives in and agrees that it is the Lord who called him! In our gospel (Mk.6:7-13) Jesus the teacher gives his disciples their directions and assignments, sending them out in pairs. He tells them very strongly not to stay where they are not welcome! And our second reading from the letter of Paul to the Ephesians (Ephesians 1:3-10) confirms the blessings of those who are chosen in Christ to bring the news of salvation everywhere. Amos, the disciples --and the followers of Christ today -- all fit into the same category. We are called to bring the healing message of Christ to others. We are encouraged to go forth with companions and we are clearly instructed to move on when our words are not received. Today's readings are not only a source of encouragement, but also a serious reminder that we are all called to be bearers of the message of the Gospel. If we only bring that message to places where we will be accepted, we have not gone far enough. The Gospel invites us to live among those to whom we bring the message, so that both the message and the messenger can be trusted.

Thank you for your generosity.

The National Shrine of North American Martyrs
Auriesville, New York, birthplace of St. Kateri Tekawitha
 More than one hundred years old, the National Shrine of North American Martyrs founded in 1885, is located in the beautiful Mohawk Valley in central New York State about 40 miles west of Albany. Surrounded by 600 acres of forest land near the Adirondack Park, the Shrine is a great place to visit for Mass or pilgrimages (and have a picnic too). The Shrine is built on the grounds of the Mohawk Indian village of Ossernenon, where the martyrs taught the Mohawk people about Jesus. It is the birthplace of St. Kateri Tekakwitha, the Lily of the Mohawks. This holy ground is where America's first canonized saints were martyred - St. Rene Goupil (1642), St. Isaac Jogues (1646) and St. John Lalande (1646). On the grounds is the Coliseum, which is one of the first circular churches in the United States. It was built in 1930 and holds about 6000 people. As you walk through the Ravine, the story of the martyrs unfold. The Stations of the Cross and the Seven Sorrows of Mary are set along paths. Shrine office (518)853-3033.

The Friends of Jesus by Pope Benedict XVI for Children

 Pope Benedict tells the story of the twelve apostles and St. Paul. The 48-page book includes several passages from the Pope's catecheses of past Wednesday general audiences. Fr. Julian Carron, president of the Fraternity of Communion and Liberation, writes the prologue and says that in this work Benedict XVI "takes us by the hand and accompanies us as we discover who Jesus' first companions were, how they met Him and were conquered by Him to the point that they never abandoned Him." In the prologue, Fr. Carron writes "...One upon a time there was a small group of men who, one day two thousand years ago, met a young man who walked the roads of Galilee...later they were joined by St. Paul, who from being a persecutor of Christians, became the greatest witness to Jesus."
