Dear Parishioners,

We now enter the holy season of Lent with the acceptance of ashes on our foreheads. This is a time when we become more than aware of the teachings of Christ when he tells us to “Be compassionate as your Father is compassionate.” He also tells us to “be perfect as your heavenly Father is perfect.”

This is the time when we journey uphill to the top of Calvary. We do this one painful step after another, following Jesus who asks us to take up our crosses and follow Him. We can begin by getting ourselves back into the Church, which is our community of love and faith. We can be with our body, mind, and spirit, united and whole with all that is. We should ponder our moral and ethical behaviors at least for an hour a week, which is better than not doing it at all. I do not know how many of our parishioners will return and walk the Way with us. It is a real catastrophe that our fellow members of the faith are just on the fringe or have left us altogether. If we do not have a coming together, we shall be broken and split and lonely.

This season let us examine ourselves to evaluate how much we follow Jesus who tells us that the greatest deed we can do is to love all human beings. So, if we love something, it is because of the value it has for us. So, the question is how valuable are other humans to you? The more you treat people as valuable, the better person you are and are on the path of perfection. The more you are on the path of perfection the greater is the moral demand placed on you. You are now attaching yourself to the two pillars of morality: The life of truthfulness and of goodness (compassion).

We cannot be truthful, compassionate, and loving if our inner being (soul) is compromised by weakness, guilt, remorse, and evil (sin). That is why we ponder our lives to make a choice to abandon our former way of life and choose the way of unashamed truth, of unflinching responsibility, the steadfast bravery of the cross, the way of love. We begin by marking our foreheads with ashes and acknowledge that there is a lot that is wanting in us, and that we have a way to go. We get out of our comfort zone and apply our faith in a practical way by doing with less (fasting) and pushing back our hungers (abstinence). In this way we put our faith into action.

Being a Christian means to be much more than a churchgoer; it means treating the world and all in it as being of value and that they matter to you. You show that by the manner you respond to people who come within your circle of life. Do they have a meaning that drives you towards your own perfection? During this season of Lent let us examine the way we live and then let us dare to say that we have faith and that we love God and neighbor. Let us, despite who we are, never waver from aiming at the truth, the good, and the loving. This is what it means to say, “I believe.”

Pray for me to be a more perfect image of God.

Resettlement News & Needs
THANK YOU to the Holy Name of Mary and our Supporting Organizations and their members. Your donations, connections, and leads have lined up furnishings, beginning food supplies, and warm clothing, plus new options for F. and Baseer. Open Door, Neighbors Link, and Career Closest have also provided key services on short notice. Connecting our four communities has magnified our impact.

The Afghan young lady F. spends hours a day at her computer improving her English and could use a computer desk. Baseer's family of four needs temporary housing starting Feb. 24, as well as a double stroller. Email us at info@OssiningForRefugees.org if you can help.

Finally, go to our website to see a Feb. 17 panel discussion on the film “A Home Called Nebraska” and local resettlement efforts.
