In his letter to the Corinthians, St. Paul issues two strong challenges to us as disciples of Christ. We should reflect carefully on what the significance of these challenges for each of us.

“... You are the temple of God, and... the Spirit of God dwells within you.” In baptism, each of us received the gift of God’s Spirit and each of us was joined to the life of the Risen Christ. As a result, our bodies are the dwelling place of God. Remarkable! In Christianity, there has always been a tendency to denigrate the body and think of it as the source of temptation and sin. In fact, our bodies are a precious gift of God, made in God’s own image, and are dwelling places of God. To honor the body means that we are moderate in our use of alcohol. We seek to maintain a healthy weight. We exercise regularly. We use the gift of our human sexuality in a way that is appropriate to our state in life. In all these ways, we honor the body, the dwelling place of God. And we reveal to the world that God dwells within us by the manner of our lives, which leads us to the second challenge of St. Paul.

St. Paul tells us not to seek the wisdom of this world. Yet, many of us do! We conform our lives to prevailing cultural values. We look to pundits on the internet, radio and television to shape what we think and how we act in the world. As persons in whom God dwells, we should seek to shape our lives according to the values of the Gospel and the teaching of our Church. It is not easy because the values of the Gospel represent a strong challenge to prevailing cultural values and prevailing popular opinion – to offer welcome to those seeking refuge, to respond generously to the needs of the poor, to see all persons as brother and sister to us and so accept our responsibility for the well-being of all, to place the needs of others before our own desires. Do our lives reflect the values of the Gospel or the wisdom of this world?

Celebrate the dignity that is yours as a dwelling place of God! Reveal to the world God’s presence within you by your commitment to the values of the Gospel.

Fr. Mark Hallinan, S.J

LENT BEGINS ON WEDNESDAY – MARCH 1st – Ash Wednesday is March 1st. Ashes are only distributed during the Masses celebrated that day. Mass schedule: 8 a.m.; 12:05 p.m., 6 p.m. (Spanish); 8 p.m. (Spanish). Ash Wednesday is a day of fast and abstinence from meat. Fridays in Lent are also days of abstinence. Fasting applies only to those between the ages of 18 and 59. Abstinence applies to all persons from age 14 onwards. We often think of Lent as a time to 'give-up something'. Instead, think of something positive that you could do this Lent. Visit a homebound relative or friend. Volunteer at a soup kitchen or food pantry. Tutor a young person. Prepare a meal for an elderly neighbor. Buy two less cups of coffee each week and contribute the savings to charity. Be creative!

DIVINE WISDOM – The Lord's message, through Moses, was to "take no revenge and cherish no grudge... love your neighbor as yourself" (Leviticus 19:18). We might think, "Great in theory, but not always realistic!" Then Jesus in today's Gospel goes even further. Take a slap in the face and then turn the cheek? Treat enemies the same as friends? Again, we're tempted to think that those are nice ideals, but not very practical in the "real world." Paul echoes Jesus when he tells the Corinthians that what passes for human wisdom is absurdity to God. Divine wisdom casts sunshine on the good and the bad, showers rain on the honest and dishonest – without distinction. We must examine our wisdom and common sense to see how they compare to the wisdom of God, and make adjustments accordingly.
