This COVID-19 Crisis continues to take such a heavy toll on everyone. Our priests pray for a quick end to this struggle as well as for the health and safety of our parishioners. Thank you to those who have been able to send in their tithing. It is truly needed. We are sincerely grateful; God bless you.

Pray for children hidden from sight,
 But not from God.

Names of the sick are listed for six months from the date of the initial request. Contact the rectory to add someone.

Due to the Pandemic the Sacrament of First Holy Communion, scheduled for this past May, had to be postponed. Seeing a small window of opportunity, and being unsure of what the fall may bring, Fr. Frank was able to reschedule and ensure all communicants received this important sacrament of initiation during the month of July. Many of our Parishioners were able to share in this important sacrament as it was held during normal mass times.

Congratulations to the First Communicants of St. Columbanus Parish!

There will be a collection on Saturday, August 15th for the Feast of the Assumption.

CONGRATULATIONS

to Michael Hart & Diana Smoyer who were united in Catholic matrimony on Saturday, August 8th. May the Lord bless them all the days of their lives.

Pray for a strengthening of families and family life.

FOR THOSE WHO CANNOT ATTEND MASS

Watch mass on TV, pray with your family (rosary), read the scriptures and make an act of spiritual communion (see below, from Fr. Franks May 31, 2020 Pastor's notes):

My Jesus,
I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament.
I love You above all things,
and desire to receive You into my soul.
Since I cannot at this moment receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart.
I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You.
Never permit me to be separated from You.
Amen.

~PASTOR'S NOTES~

August 9, 2020

Last week I printed an article about how a bishop was moved by the beauty and mystery of the Extraordinary Form of the Mass. Laity have also become aware of the awesome nature of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass as witnessed by the increasing number of young people going to the Traditional Latin Mass. They also have respect for our Lord in the Eucharist and come to Mass properly dressed.

Following are excerpts from an article from TFP Student Action writer Luiz Sergio Solimeo:

Modesty of Dress and the Love of God: An Effective Way to Defend the Family and Restore Christian Culture

"I love vulgarity. Good taste is death, vulgarity is life."<sup>1</sup> These words by English fashion designer Mary Quant, who took credit for inventing the miniskirt and hot pants<sup>2</sup>, reveal one of the most important, though rarely pointed out, aspects of the "fashion revolution" that started in the sixties: vulgarity. Indeed, fashions have increasingly tended toward vulgarity.

Vulgarity not only tramples upon good taste and decorum but reflects a mentality opposed to all order and discipline and to every kind of restraint, be it esthetic, moral or social, and which ultimately suggests a completely "liberated" standard of behavior.

Given the unity that exists in our tendencies, principles, convictions and behavior, the way we dress cannot fail to influence our mentality.

Wearing a certain type of clothing constitutes a form of behavior; and when clothing no longer adequately reflect our tendencies, principles and convictions, one's mentality begins to undergo an imperceptible change to remain 'in sync' with the way one presents oneself. This is because human reason, by the force of logic inherent in it, naturally seeks to establish consistency between thought and behavior.

This rule is magnificently summed up in the famous phrase of French writer Paul Bourget: "One must live as one thinks, under pain of sooner or later ending up thinking as one has lived."

The process of transformation or erosion of principles can be slowed down or impeded by a person's religious fervor, deeply rooted tendencies or ideas, and other factors. However, if inconsistency between behavior - reflected in the way one dresses - and one's principles and convictions is not eliminated, the process of erosion, no matter how slow, becomes inexorable.

This subtle erosion is often manifested by a loss of sensitivity regarding the fundamental points of one's mentality. One example would be the respect one must have for the sacred.

In some way, concessions to the principle that comfort must be the only rule of dress have ended up by giving a casual note to more serious and holy activities. How can one explain, for example, that persons who have true faith in the Real Presence of Our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament, and who make admirable sacrifices to frequent perpetual adoration, nevertheless see no contradiction in presenting themselves before the Blessed Sacrament wearing shorts as if they were on a picnic?

The same person who shows up thus dressed for perpetual adoration would never don those clothes for an audience, say, with Queen Elizabeth II. This contradiction shows how, though the person has maintained his faith, to a certain degree the notion of the majesty of the Sacrament of the Altar -- the Real Presence -- has vanished from his soul.

If the “way of beauty” leads us to God by seeing Him as the exemplary cause of Creation, the “way of ugliness” turns us away from the Creator and places us on the slippery slope of sin. That is why ugliness is the very symbol of sin and is so well expressed by the expression “ugly as sin.”

In Jesus and Mary,
Fr. Frank Samoylo
