A CALL TO HOLINESS
BY POPE FRANCIS

98. If I encounter a person sleeping outdoors on a cold night, I can view him or her as an annoyance, an idler, an obstacle in my path, a troubling sight, a problem for politicians to sort out, or even a piece of refuse cluttering a public space. Or I can respond with faith and charity, and see in this person a human being with a dignity identical to my own, a creature infinitely loved by the Father, an image of God, a brother or sister redeemed by Jesus Christ. That is what it is to be a Christian! Can holiness somehow be understood apart from this lively recognition of the dignity of each human being?[82]

99. For Christians, this involves a constant and healthy unease. Even if helping one person alone could justify all our efforts, it would not be enough. The bishops of Canada made this clear when they noted, for example, that the biblical understanding of the jubilee year was about more than simply performing certain good works. It also meant seeking social change: "For later generations to also be released, clearly the goal had to be the restoration of just social and economic systems, so there could no longer be exclusion".[83]

UN LLAMADO A LA SANTIDAD
DEL PAPA FRANCISCO

98. Cuando encuentro a una persona durmiendo a la intemperie, en una noche fría, puedo sentir que ese bulto es un imprevisto que me interrumpe, un delincuente ocioso, un estorbo en mi camino, un agujón molesto para mi conciencia, un problema que deben resolver los políticos, y quizá hasta una basura que ensucia el espacio público. O puedo reaccionar desde la fe y la caridad, y reconocer en él a un ser humano con mi misma dignidad, a una criatura infinitamente amada por el Padre, a una imagen de Dios, a un hermano redimido por Jesucristo. ¡Eso es ser cristianos! ¿O acaso puede entenderse la santidad al margen de este reconocimiento vivo de la dignidad de todo ser humano?[82]

99. Esto implica para los cristianos una sana y permanente insatisfacción. Aunque aliviar a una sola persona ya justificaría todos nuestros esfuerzos, eso no nos basta. Los Obispos de Canadá lo expresaron claramente mostrando que, en las enseñanzas bíblicas sobre el Jubileo, por ejemplo, no se trata solo de realizar algunas buenas obras sino de buscar un cambio social: «Para que las generaciones posteriores también fueran liberadas, claramente el objetivo debía ser la restauración de sistemas sociales y económicos justos para que ya no pudiera haber exclusión»[83].
